MEMORANDUM
Re: Release of the new journal.

Dear Colleagues and Friends

I am pleased and honored to announce the inauguration of the newest journal dedicated to the advancement of knowledge in the sciences and practice of dental and oral maxillofacial regenerative and reconstructive therapies. This journal is intended to be an official publication of the Dental School of the Islamic Azad University Isfahan Branch (Khorasgan), and to reach the widest audience will be published in English as a quarterly release. All submitted manuscripts will be subjected to blind review by the appropriate associate editor and reviewers with expertise in the field that the article encompasses.

Douglas Deporter, DDS, PhD,
Editor-in- Chief,
Professor, Discpline of Periodontics,
Faculty of Dentistry, University of Toronto.

In the name of God

Dear Colleagues

Welcome to the first issue of the Contemporary Orofacial Sciences (COFS) journal.

As the Director- in-charge, on behalf of the editorial board and team, I am so fortunate to have the immense pleasure of announcing the launch of the first issue of the Contemporary Orofacial Sciences (COFS) journal and welcome you all, dear readers, to this journal. This journal is an open-access, peer-reviewed quarterly journal of the School of Dentistry, Islamic Azad University, Isfahan (Khorasgan) Branch. We aim to disseminate and enrich the knowledge of orofacial sciences in all subspecialties of dentistry, Basic and clinical sciences. With the kind support of you dear authors and readers, we will do our best to serve the prestigious scientific community of dentistry. We acknowledge your exciting research in all forms of original studies, letters to the editor, review articles and case reports. For your convenience, the effortless editorial team will make sure to accomplish the review process of each paper within two weeks of initial submission.
I am incredibly grateful to God and warmly thank the authors, editors, and reviewers, who have volunteered and stepped in to make this a dream come true. We appreciate the guidance and support of Islamic Azad University, Isfahan branch president and vice chancellor of research.
I finally invite you all to future collaborations and look forward to hearing your valuable feedback and insights. With your support, we can make a bright future for this journal on a path to improving the quality of life of our patients. I hope you enjoy this journal as much as we enjoyed bringing it together, despite the difficulties on this exceptionally long journey.

Sincerely

Dr Maryam Zare Jahromi

Director -in-charge
